VisualCV Overview

Clint Heiden, cofounder and CEO describes the benefits of a VisualCV.

Round 2: VisualCV vs. Resume

Round 3: VisualCV vs. Resume

Recent Graduate

VisualCV's cofounder and CEO, Clint Heiden, graduated from JMU. The company employs two graduates from JMU, Leslie Reid and myself.

I owe a great deal to JMU's venture creation class for informing me about entrepreneurs such as Clint Heiden.

About VisualCV

VisualCV.com allows professionals to create an online presence that replaces the traditional resume. But a VisualCV is not just for job searching. You can use it anytime you need to present your credentials. Think of it as the world's greatest personal business card! Include a link to your VisualCV in your email signature, on your business card, or on your website.

Sharing a VisualCV makes every meeting more effective and every relationship a better fit. And your online VisualCV can complement your current presence within social networks like LinkedIn and Facebook. Or use your VisualCV with your blog posts or in community forums!

Your personal VisualCVs can serve different purposes when sharing with friends, colleagues, clients, prospects, recruiters, or companies. And you have total control over the privacy of your VisualCV. You can share it with the world, limit it to a restricted group, or even a single authenticated individual for ultra-privacy.

Top companies around the country are currently signing up to start receiving VisualCVs in lieu of the traditional Word resume. Companies are also creating their own VisualCVs to share information regarding their culture, job opportunities, career potential and more.

Registration for professionals and companies is easy and free. Get started today!

About Patrick

Since coming to college, I have always wanted to work with a company that would provide the opportunity to not only facilitate growth, but also help to shape the culture in a way that fosters team work and allows employee input, at any level, to be recognized. However, through many internships, experiences, and conversations with colleagues, I was unable to find a company that allowed me to feel that I made a proper "fit."

During my last semester at James Madison University, I learned about small technology startups and how the work environment was truly unique. The cofounder and CEO of VisualCV, Clint Heiden, who is also a JMU grad, happened to speak briefly to my class about his experiences. I learned the company was looking for employees and saw it as a once in a lifetime opportunity. Now I am part of a great team, offering a truly exceptional product that even I can relate to.

In my spare time, I enjoy riding personal watercraft (PWC), especially models manufactured by Sea-Doo. These machines provide an incredible on-the-water experience and can give almost anyone an exhilaration rush. I love keeping tabs on the watercraft industry at www.sea-doo.net. The site's message board allows users to relate to watercraft enthusiasts; learn about modifying new craft, and generally what direction the industry may be headed.
