Dr. Renato Calabria, plastic surgery, reconstructive surgery, cosmetic surgery, minimally invasive surgery

Summary

For nearly twenty years, Dr. Renato Calabria has been performing cosmetic procedures from his offices in Beverly Hills and Palm Springs, California. He also has practices in Milan and Rome in Italy. Dr. Calabria's outstanding work led the Consumers' Research Council of America to distinguish him as one of America's Top Plastic Surgeons in 2008. In addition, in 2005, Dr. Renato Calabria was nominated as a Physician of the Year. Just this year, he earned the Best of Beverly Hills Award in the Medical Doctors category. Dr. Renato Calabria offers a wide range of cosmetic options such as BOTOX, breast augmentation and reduction, liposuction, tummy tucks, and facelifts. Aware that plastic surgery is a highly personal decision, Dr. Calabria advises that his potential patients look into the procedure of their interest and educate themselves about all aspects of the surgery. He can introduce prospective patients to past clients, and his website provides a number of testimonials and before-and-after pictures for further reference. Born in Italy, Dr. Renato Calabria was educated at the prestigious University of Padua medical school. Dr. Calabria then moved to the United States to perform his postdoctoral training. He completed research fellowships at Los Angeles County Harbor-University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) Medical Center and Wadsworth-VA Medical Center before conducting his residency in pathology at Wadsworth-UCLA Medical Center. He then spent five years training in General Surgery at Kerns County-University of California, San Diego Medical Center before moving to the San Francisco Bay area to be trained in plastic and reconstructive surgery at Saint Francis Memorial Hospital. Dr. Renato Calabria has enjoyed much media attention due to his expertise and the popularity of his work. He has been the subject of feature articles in the Los Angeles Times, USA Today, Vogue, Vanity Fair, Forbes, and numerous other publications. Dr. Renato Calabria also appeared as an expert guest on the Tyra Banks Show, NBC and ABC News, VH1, KTLA News, and Inside Edition. Dr. Calabria has been on the faculty of numerous aesthetic workshops. He is also part of the voluntary faculty at the University of Southern California's Division of Plastic & Reconstructive Surgery.
